About the Fort Wayne Museum of Art: Beginning with art classes in 1888 given by J. Ottis Adams and later William Forsyth, the Fort Wayne Museum of Art has evolved into a center for the visual arts community in Northeast Indiana. Regularly exhibiting regional and nationally acclaimed artists, the FWMoA also boasts an extensive permanent collection of American Art as well as prints and drawings from artists such as Jackson Pollock and Andy Warhol. The Museum is committed to the collection, preservation, presentation and interpretation of American and related art to engage broad and diverse audiences throughout the community and region, and add value to their lives. The Fort Wayne Museum of Art is a funded partner of Arts United of Greater Fort Wayne.

About Green Hair Revolution:

Green Hair Revolution's mission is to provide women, men and children with strategies for healthy hair care, by bringing education, engagement, and empowerment concerning hair, body and spirit to the public through various mediums and methods. Founders and sisters Sherry E. Early Aden and Clydia Early began Green Hair Revolution as an outlet to discuss and share experiences pertaining to hair with other like-minded hair enthusiasts. After many forums, meet-up sessions, and reflections on the power and politics of hair, they realized that as a society many of our issues with hair were greater than what was on top of our heads.
